

Perma Copyright Policy

Consistent with the Digital Millennium Copyright Act, if you believe that your copyrighted materials have been copied in a way that constitutes copyright infringement, please send an email or written notice to our designated agent for notices of infringement and provide the following information:

1. a physical or electronic signature of person authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed;
2. identification of the copyrighted work claimed to have been infringed;
3. identification of the material that is claimed to be infringing or to be the subject of infringing activity and that is to be removed or access to which is to be disabled, and information reasonably sufficient to permit Perma.cc to locate the material;
4. information reasonably sufficient to permit Perma.cc to contact the complaining party, such as an address, telephone number, and if available, an electronic mail address at which the complaining party may be contacted;
5. a statement that the complaining party has a good faith belief that use of the material in the manner complained of is not authorized by the copyright owner, its agent, or the law; and
6. a statement that the information in the notification is accurate, and under penalty of perjury, that the complaining party is authorized to act on behalf of the owner of an exclusive right that is allegedly infringed.

Perma.cc's designated agent for notice for claims of copyright infringement is Kyle K. Courtney, who can be reached as follows:

- By mail: Harvard Law Library, Langdell 263, 1545 Massachusetts Ave. Cambridge, MA 02138
- By phone: 617 495-5510
- By email: kcourtney@law.harvard.edu

Note: the above contact information is provided exclusively for notifying Perma.cc that your copyrighted material may have been infringed. All other inquiries, (e.g., requests for technical assistance or customer service, reports of email abuse, and piracy reports), will not receive a response through this process and should be directed to the appropriate entity via email or by phone.
